

In law school you studied Property, Torts, and Contracts, but probably not Business Strategy or Effective Leadership.

Yet business and leadership skills are every bit as important to your professional success as legal knowledge. Please join Oregon Women Lawyers at our Fall CLE to learn how to incorporate these critical skills into your daily practice.

12:30 - 1:00 PM: Registration and Introductions

1:00 PM: Keynote speaker

The Honorable Martha Walters, Oregon Supreme Court

So what is it REALLY like on the practice development front lines? Justice Walters knows well the challenge of developing the business known as a law firm. Before her appointment to the Oregon Supreme Court in 2006, Justice Walters was a respected partner and president of the Eugene law firm, Walters Chanti and Zennache Attorneys at Law. Justice Walters will offer her words of wisdom on the ups and downs, good and bad days, of building a satisfying career and leading a successful law practice.

Business Track

2:15 - 3:15 PM

Defining Your Practice

Our experts answer the questions: What is a business model, and how do I best use it in my daily practice? How can I ethically market my chosen practice?

- Lisa LeSage, Associate Dean, Business Law Programs, and Director, Small Business Legal Clinic, Lewis & Clark Law School
- Carol Mason, Director, Portland State University Business Accelerator Program
- Maggie Finnerty, Clinical Professor, Small Business Legal Clinic, Lewis & Clark Law School

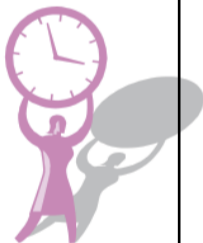

3:30 - 4:30 PM

Time Management/Effective Delegation

Most of us wish there were 26 (maybe 30!) hours in the day. Our panel will show us how effectively structuring your day and appropriately delegating tasks can make better use of the 24 hours you actually have.

- Meloney Crawford Chadwick, J.D., C.A.D.C. III, N.A.D.C. II, Oregon Attorney Assistance Program
- Heather Van Meter, Williams Kastner
- Katherine Weber, Attorney at Law

Leadership Track

2:15 - 3:15 PM

Serving on a Non-Profit Board: Help the Community and Enhance Your Leadership Skills

Have you ever wondered what it takes to serve on a non-profit board? Find out how to target and join a public service board as well as how to succeed and satisfy your legal obligations once you are on the board.

- Virginia Willard, Executive Director, Northwest Business for Culture and the Arts
- Brenda Meltebeke, Ater Wynne LLP
- Mark Wada, Harrang Long Gary Rudnick PC

3:30 - 4:30 PM

Looking Forward: Leading with Courage and Passion

Our most effective and admired leaders are those who act with great courage. Discover your inner capacity to act with courage: explore ways to better collaborate, change negative workplace dynamics, and overcome barriers to professional fulfillment and job satisfaction.

- Carmen Voilleque, Leadership and Management Consultant, Extreme Arts & Sciences

4:45 - 6:00 PM: Reception and Workplace Leader Award, Governor Hotel Library
