Lean in. LEAN IN. Yes, you've heard it. Read it. Talked about it. Maybe you love it. Maybe you don't. But how do you make it – or something like it – work for you? How to self-promote without feeling shameless. How to make it fit with who you are, rather than who you believe you should be. This is where Aimee thrives. Be big, be bossy. Or not. Create a holistic job search strategy. Customize the career track you're already on. Overcome that nausea that washes over you when someone whispers "networking." In sum, own the awesomeness that is you. Lean whatever way you want.
